Chicago Suicide Was Edgar Lyttle of Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Nov. 30.—Until seven weeks ago, Edgar Lyttle, the sulcide of the Kimball hotel, Chicago, who killed himself Sunday, worked for a Pittsburg firm. He worked around Pittsburg for a year, coming from Dayton, Ohio, and made only one friend, and even to him the mysterious individual would not say a word as to his previous life. He was a terrible sufferer from acute dyspepsia. He had studied medicine as a veterinary surgeon, and that may account for the extraordinary manner in which he wrote down his feelings and sensations as the deadly drug gradually
